

How much should you pay for cleaning in New York?

Here's how much an hour of cleaning costs the average cleaning company

So if you are paying less than that something's wrong. If you are paying close to that, chances are that won't last long. So how much more than that should you be paying?

The typical mark up on cleaning services is 30%, so somewhere around $30/hour is a rate that is high enough for the company to cover its costs and make enough profit to stay in business and low enough that there's enough clients willing to hire them.

Here's a comparison of how much some of the top cleaning companies in NY charge:

Yelp Rating vs Hourly Rate

slate

Made by the nice people at Slate.
Daily cleaning for the modern home.

slatenyc.com